A completely automatic compact case former that has been designed to provide all the case forming features typically found in a larger, more costly machine. The CF20-EC has the capability to process a wide range of regular slotted or half slotted corrugated case sizes. It has an easy load hopper that accepts up to 30 inches of corrugated (about 100 cases). The CF20-EC's compact frame allows it to integrate easily into most production areas and it is easily portable.
